Cookware Recovery

Mission: Tackling the causes of hunger by creating realistic pathways out of poverty

Many people may assume that those living in poverty own the basic equipment to grow or cook their own food from scratch. The reality is that many who live in poverty can benefit greatly from a simple program that provides free home goods that others may take for granted.

Among our "why not" programs aimed at creating a pathway out of poverty is StarkFresh's collection and redistribution of gently used pots, pans, bowls, kitchen knives, utensils, cookware, small appliances, and garden tools. Every item is cleaned, organized, and redistributed to members of our community via various cooking and nutrition classes.

StarkFresh partners with area agencies to make sure this cookware ends up in the hands of those who need it most, at no cost.

If you'd like to donate some gently used or new cookware, kitchen appliances, or other items mentioned above please visit www.starkfresh.org/contact-us/
